

President Declares Unlimited Emergency

Pits Armed Might of Nation Against Nazi Rule of Seas

Promises Dynamic Defense; Appeals to All For Loyalty

BULLETIN
Washington, May 28—(AP)—President Roosevelt will hold a special press conference late this afternoon at which he is expected to clear up the question of convoys.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, was advised by reporters that the chief executive's speech last night in which he committed the United States unreservedly to a policy of active resistance to all German efforts to gain control of the seas left some confusion around the convoy issue. Early replied: "I think he will clear that up this afternoon and I would rather he would do it."

Washington, May 28—President Roosevelt, in an historic address last night, committed the United States unreservedly to a policy of active resistance against all German efforts to gain control of the seas.

Proclaiming a state of unlimited emergency, he promised the nation a dynamic defense against attack, or threat of attack.

He told the world, in the face of Berlin warnings, of the administration's determination to deliver the goods to Britain, utilizing the present patrols which "are helping now" and "all additional measures x x x (which) are being devised by our military and naval technicians."

He gave advance notice that occupation of Dakar, the Azores or the Cape Verde islands by axis forces would constitute a direct danger to the safety and freedom of the Americas.

"We in the Americas," he declared, "will decide for ourselves whether and when, and where, our American interests are attacked or our security threatened."

"We are placing our armed forces in strategic military position."

"We will not hesitate to use our armed forces to repel attack."

To underscore the acute gravity of the world situation as he saw it, Roosevelt issued his formal declaration "that an unlimited national emergency exists and requires the strengthening of our defense to the extreme limit of our national powers and authority."

Expects Loyal Support

"Your government," he told the people of the United States, "has the right to expect of all citizens that they take part in the common work of our common defense—take loyal part from this moment forward. x x x All will have opportunities, all will have responsibilities to fulfill."

Addressing himself particularly to capital and labor, he asserted that no disputes of any sort must interfere with arms production. The government henceforth would exert all its powers to end production stoppages. "Articles of defense must have the undisputed right of way in every industrial plant in the country."

Illinois' Loyalty Pledged By Green

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—(AP)—Governor Green, commenting on President Roosevelt's proclamation of an unlimited national emergency, said today that Illinois citizens will respond "readily and with good will" to the appeal for cooperation in the defense program. The governor issued a statement which read:

"Any emergency which must be met will find Illinois and her citizens responding to the very limit of their powers. The state already has given generously of her man power. Nearly 50,000 of its citizens who are members of the National Guard, or were inducted through selective service, are now in training camps. Every machine, every factory is at the command of our country in the greatest program of national defense in our history."

"Any way in which our citizens can cooperate in defense, I am sure, will be undertaken readily and with good will. Illinois is determined that none shall surpass in leadership and contributing to the defense and security of the nation. Let us hope that the future will be such that the sacrifice of American lives may be averted."

For Campaign

JOHN D. VAN BIBBER

Chief of Dixon's police department, who today wholeheartedly endorsed the "Save a Life and Limb" educational campaign to be staged in Dixon from June 9 to June 16. Details below.

'Save Life, Limb' Campaign Backed by Chief of Police

Apropos the "Save a Life and Limb" educational campaign on traffic safety and accident prevention, sponsored jointly by the police department and Telegraph to begin Dixon Safety Week, June 9th to 14th, Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber has suggested that special emphasis be placed on the safety of bicycle riders, especially children. Attention is called to the fact that state law and city ordinances now render bicycles subject to traffic rules and regulations the same as automobiles, but many bicyclists do not understand this fact and they are still nuisances to the automobile driver. Many cyclists twist and weave along the streets and are apt to ride carelessly out in front of a car or drive. One of the full-illustrated pages to appear during the "Save a Life and Limb" campaign will be devoted to the bicycle problem and it is the hope of the sponsors and the business people, who by their support are making the campaign possible, that parents will study the pages from week to week with the children.

Chief Van Bibber stated "I believe that motorists generally are more alert for bicyclists than the youngsters are for their own safety. I believe that the period during which the safety campaign is to be held, the vacation period, when the youngsters' thoughts turn to baseball, roller skating, bicycling, swimming and other outdoor activities, the parents should continually caution them against playing in the streets. I hope that automobile drivers will use extra caution when approaching any spot where the youngsters are at play."

A list of the business people who join the police department and Telegraph in sponsoring the 10-week campaign will be published early next week.

Lee Co. Registrants Up to Number 713 May Get "Call" in June

Attorney E. S. Wadsworth, government appeal agent for Lee County Selective Service Board No. 1 at Dixon, said today that no definite instructions have as yet been received as to the number of Class A-1 men to be inducted in June, but that a call for a substantial number of these men is anticipated and that order number up to No. 713 will be subject to June requirements of the Dixon board.

Mr. Wadsworth will be at the Army office of the Dixon board from 7:00 to 9:00 Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings of next week for the purpose of interviewing any Class A-1 men within this order number group who desire attention to their particular classification and status.

U. S. O. Discussed at Meeting Here Tuesday; No Organization Formed

A representative of the United Service Organizations for National Defense, Inc., met with a small group of business and professional men of Dixon at the city hall yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at which time the program was explained briefly. The organization hopes to collect 16 cents from every man, woman and child in Lee county to be used for the program.

The U. S. O. plans to set up 339 service clubs adjacent to camps, naval stations and defense industries throughout the United States and its overseas bases so that the

German and Italian Officials Have No Comment on Speech

Britons Jubilant as Roosevelt Declares for All-Out Aid

(By The Associated Press)
Both axis partners were grimly silent today—officially—on President Roosevelt's speech, but propaganda sources which do their bidding were allowed to hint that it may be regarded as an invitation to war.

Virginia Gayda, fascist editor who often reflects Premier Mussolini's own views, said flatly that the United States president was "preparing for aggression" against Germany and Italy.

Other Fascist circles in Rome said the fireside chat, committing the United States to a policy of resisting any German attempt to gain control of the seas, virtually put the United States at war with the axis.

By late afternoon in Berlin, the German press had not disclosed to its public even that the president had spoken.

But the Dienst aus Deutschland news commentary, which has close foreign office connections and is not for home consumption, said his address undoubtedly would receive a "decisive rejection" from the nazis.

The German radio—in a broadcast also exclusively for consumption abroad—was heard by CBS in New York to denounce Roosevelt's attitude on freedom of the seas as meaning "nothing short of unlimited control by Washington" of the world's sea lanes.

"Germany, however, neither can nor will permit this type of economic dictatorship on the part of the American or any other nation," the radio declared.

Britons Jubilant
In Britain and throughout her empire, the president's words were heard jubilantly.

"The axis partners were great in their unshared hostility," said the London Evening Star in a full-page editorial headed "America at Action Stations."

"They now have their own weapon turned against them."

The newspaper pointed out that, while the declaration of war is a prerogative of Congress, the president of the United States, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, "can send the ships and the men where he chooses."

In far-off Canberra, Australian Labor Leader John Curtin said "every Britisher and Australian

Repeal of Minimum Wage Laws Killed

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—(AP)—Legislation to repeal the 1937 minimum wage laws for policemen and firemen in some 60 Illinois cities was killed by the Illinois senate late yesterday.

The bills, which would have repealed the flat minimum wage guarantee and provided that the cities would be paid only where they had approved the pay standard by referendum, were struck from the calendar by the sponsor, Senator Charles F. Carpenter (R-East Moline), after the senate by a 22 to 20 vote removed the repealer provisions from the bill.

Senator Carpenter said that removal of the repealer provision voided the purposes of his measures. Officers of the Illinois Municipal League have contended that many cities were unable to pay the minimum scale of $150 monthly for firemen and policemen in cities of 10,000 to 25,000 population and $175 for downstate cities over 25,000.

The Carpenter bills also would have empowered cities to levy a special tax to pay the salaries of firemen and policemen.

Similar bills sponsored by Rep. Ben S. Rhodes (R-Normal) are pending in the house.

influence and comfort of the American home community may be brought to those who have been separated from their homes to serve their country. It was explained. The organization further plans to provide programs in these buildings and to cooperate with local groups in the marshalling of community resources for the maintenance of morale. Individual service on personal problems, religious service, social events and diversified group recreation were cited as the principal activities planned. Some of those attending pledged their support of the program but no organization was perfected.

FDR's Proclamation Without Precedent in Nation's History

Some Emergency Powers He Is Given Listed by Legal Experts

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's proclamation of an unlimited national emergency—an act without known precedent in American history—places powers at his disposal to deal with virtually any contingency, legal experts said today.

Except for an actual declaration of war—something Congress alone can make—Roosevelt was represented as having full authority to meet any crisis.

His powers, legal experts said, would permit him, for instance, to commandeer or shut down radio stations, to take over utilities to obtain the necessary electricity for munitions production, or to compel transportation priority for movement of troops or war materials. In each case, it was noted, however, a specific presidential proclamation would be required.

Among the things which legal experts say Roosevelt now has the power to do are the following:

Forbid Federal Reserve banks to do business except under treasury regulations.

Investigate, regulate or prohibit transactions in foreign exchange.

Place the coast guard under the navy (Roosevelt already has transferred part of it to the navy).

Can Change Rules
Refuse clearance to vessels of a belligerent country which discriminates against American vessels or citizens.

Empower the federal reserve commission to require temporary connections for the transmission of electric energy.

Require any vessels to leave the United States waters or prohibit any vessel from entering them.

Remove duties from imported food, clothing and medical supplies needed in emergency relief work.

Waive or modify the monthly apportionment of federal appropriations.

Order the national guard and army and navy reserves to active duty.

"Virtual Declaration of War" Says Wheeler

Indianapolis, May 28.—(AP)—U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont.) today described President Roosevelt's speech of last night as a "virtual declaration of war."

Senator Wheeler, an outspoken foe of the administration's foreign policy, added:

"The president talks about cold, hard facts and fear and yet no man in America has tried more to create fear in the minds of the people than has the president since 1933. We are not prepared to fight on foreign soil. We can not land an expeditionary force in Europe."

"The president talks of the defense of democracy and yet he has disregarded the fundamentals of democracy in America."

Wheeler will address a rally tonight sponsored by the America First Committee.

Allies Losing Crete: RAF, French Clash in Air Over Syria

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(Telegraph Special News Service)
President Roosevelt has taken a seven league stride toward solving the two most urgent needs—and they are dangerously pressing needs—of Britain and her allies in their present critical position—production and transportation of sinews of war.

This move has come without a moment to spare if the allies are to be sustained. The European conflict has reached a crisis where the outcome is as finely balanced as an egg on the edge of a knife. A major defeat on either side might start a debacle.

We may say that the vital question of transportation of essential supplies is fairly well solved, for in the face of repeated axis threats the president says that "all additional measures necessary to deliver the goods will be taken." It must be assumed that it is within the power of the United States to ensure delivery of the goods.

There was finality in Roosevelt's "It will be done." That means business. If the axis attempts to carry out its declaration to drive our aid from the seas, it also may mean war. We should have our heads buried in the sand if we didn't recognize that possibility.

The outcome of the war, as the president indicated, is pivoting on domination of the oceans. He pinned down the point with this: "If the axis powers fail to gain control of the seas, they are certainly defeated."

So much for the question of transportation, without which all our efforts at production would avail nothing in the way of aid for the allies. There still remains the matter of production which the chief executive also has taken in hand.

From the standpoint of the allies, quickening of speed in our manufacture is of the utmost importance. Britain is not getting what she needs to meet the assault of the most powerful war machine the world has known.

Two requirements which are a matter of life and death to her are warplanes and mechanical equipment, such as tanks. Lack of (Continued on Page 6)

Lasting System to Peg Prices Sought

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—A permanent system of price-pegging government loans on major crops as part of the national farm program became the goal of today.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), sponsor of much new deal farm legislation, announced that he would offer such a measure for enactment at this session of congress.

"The loan measure signed by the president this week is effective for only one year," the senator explained. "Most of us want this as a permanent measure."

Senator Bankhead said his proposed bill also would include the suggestions outlined by President Roosevelt as he signed the 85 per cent parity loan measure expected to put millions of extra dollars into the pockets of cotton, wheat and corn farmers on this year's crops.

President Roosevelt said it was his understanding that growers would not receive more than parity returns from the loans and government benefit payments; that acreage allotments for cotton and wheat "should more closely approximate current demand"; that penalties for marketing excess cotton and rice be increased; and that the government loan agency be "free to dispose in an orderly manner of many commodities acquired under the loan program."

Two Small Boys Start $1,500 Fire in Parents' Home Here Yesterday

Two boys, two and 10 years of age, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Turner, 311 West Graham street, were reported to have started a fire in their home yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock which resulted in loss and damage totaling about $1,500, only partially covered by insurance. Smoke pouring from the windows of the home attracted the attention of a neighbor who turned in a fire alarm and the community truck responded.

According to the report, the boys were playing with matches in the house during the absence of the parents, and set fire to clothing in a clothes closet in a bed room. They then ran from the house while flames spread to the household furnishings in the bedroom and smoke filled the entire house, which had only recently been repaired.

Assistant Fire Chief Albert Fordyce organized bucket and pumping brigades and several high school students assisted to one section of the residence. A large amount of clothing and furnishings is a complete loss and all of the household effects were damaged by water, heat and smoke.

Axis Troops Report Progress in North African Fighting

(By The Associated Press)
German "sky troops" have seized Cana, the capital of Crete, and smashed allied resistance in the nine-day-old struggle, the nazis have command declared today, while luftwaffe dive-bombers frustrated a British attempt to escape by sea.

British Middle East headquarters acknowledge that British troops defending Cana have been "obliged to make a further withdrawal to a more favorable position in the rear."

"Severe fighting continues," the British communiqué said.

A series of other swift-breaking developments paced the British setback on Crete. These included: 1. Capture of Halfaya ("Hell-Fire") pass in Egypt by axis troops now striking with renewed fury toward the Suez canal.

2. Britain and her old ally, France, have met in open combat for the first time—a clash between RAF and French warplanes over Syria.

3. Germany and Italy granted France permission to build up a continental air force for "defense of empire"—apparently countering Britain's threat to attack unoccupied France if Chief of State Philippe Petain continues his active cooperation with the reich.

Resistance Crushed?
In the critical battle of Crete, Hitler's high command asserted that allied resistance on the 160-mile-long island was crushed, with British and Greek defenders suffering heavy losses as they retreated.

Nazi mountain troops, supported by waves of machine-gunning and bombing attack planes, were said to be pursuing the British across the island.

The communiqué said dive-bombing Stukas had thwarted a British attempt to retreat by sea with the destruction of four ships totalling 5,400 tons and the damaging of two others in Suda Bay, site of a big British naval base.

French Bomb RAF Planes

In the Middle East, French warplanes were reported to have attacked British planes for the first time over Syria—where the RAF has been bombing airports assertedly used by German bombers en route to Iraq.

French dispatches from Beirut said British and French air squadrons clashed when the British started attacking the air drome at Neirab, and an RAF Glenn Martin bomber was shot down with all members of its three-man crew killed.

On the North African front, Hitler's high command said axis troops had recaptured Halfaya ("Hell Fire") pass, southeast of (Continued on Page 6)

Germany Explains Loss of Bismarck

Berlin, May 28.—(AP)—Germany mourned today the loss of the battleship Bismarck, one of the two most formidable naval units she ever launched, but the people were told it was better to dare the risks of sea warfare in a fight to win than to wait in port.

Mourned, too, were Fleet Commander Admiral Gunther Luetjens and the Bismarck's officers and crew, all of whom apparently died—so far as was known here—after Admiral Luetjens' last message early yesterday:

"Ship unable to maneuver. We are fighting until the last shell. Long live the fuhrer."

(The Bismarck is believed to have carried a complement of between 1,300 and 1,500 officers and men.)

The tenor of newspaper editorials today was: "The Bismarck is lost, but the fight against England goes on."

The press emphasized that the Bismarck was sunk by numerically superior British forces, and the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared:

"But even such superior forces would have been unable to defeat the Bismarck had it not been for the accidental effect of an aerial torpedo, damaging the ship's propeller and steering mechanism."

The newspaper, which said the Bismarck was the victim of "overwhelming enemy forces after establishing a glorious feat of arms," commented that naval warfare is full of hazards—"but one who is out for success must dare such risks."

Judge Orders Promise to Convert Re Kent; Vacates His Sentence

Waukegan, Ill., May 28 (AP)—Edward T. Leonard, 46, who has served three years of a 14-year sentence for his part in the 1932 slaying of an Antioch, Ill., farmer, was ordered released from the Joliet prison in action taken yesterday by Judge William L. Pierce.

Sitting in Lake county Circuit court, Judge Pierce vacated Leonard's sentence, imposed in 1938, after Leonard declared he had been promised his freedom for turning state's evidence.

Leonard, Joseph Russo, Michael Karapournos, and Joseph Nemmer were convicted of slaying William Hancock. Each was sentenced to 14 years.

In his petition, Leonard stated that his attorney had been promised by Charles E. Mason, then Lake county State's Attorney, that Leonard would be given his freedom for testifying as a state's witness in the trial of two of the men.

BEWARE OF WORMS
Inside you or your child

Do you know that roundworms can cause great distress? And they are so easy to "catch" that thousands of grown-ups and children have these bowel worms without even recognizing the symptoms.

So watch out for these signs: Fidgeting, itchy nose and seat, uneasy stomach, restless sleep. If you even suspect roundworms, get Jayne's Vermifuge to drive them out before they can "set" and cause trouble.

Jayne's is America's leading proprietary worm medicine; used by millions, for over a century. It expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. When no worms are there, it works just as a mild laxative. Play safe! Ask for Jayne's Vermifuge! At all drug stores.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

A Thought For Today

Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the Lord your God and His testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee.—Deuteronomy 6:17.

Through obedience learn to command.—Plato.

Dakar as a Threat

There is talk from Washington that the United States may find it necessary to seize Dakar and the Azores as a matter of hemispherical defense.

Military experts are best qualified to say whether possession of the Azores and Dakar, by the nazis, would constitute a threat to the United States and South America. However, it has been demonstrated, to the sorrow of a couple of reserve officers and two excellent military executives that it is not always safe for the experts to say what they think.

We'd suggest that if the United States government is going to start grabbing territory that constitutes a possible threat to American interests wherever they may be, we soon shall find ourselves in the same position as Hitler, who has to take one territory simply because he has previously taken another area. If we get Dakar we'd have to control French West Africa because Dakar could be attacked from that colony. And if we got French West Africa we'd find it advisable to annex Spanish African colonies, and certainly we couldn't permit Italian African colonies to exist alongside our other African interests.

The same holds true with the Azores, which are very close to Europe and might be attacked at any time by a non-friendly European power unless we got control of all those parts of Europe which might constitute a threat to the Azores.

We have been content to permit the establishment of British naval bases in the Atlantic very near American shores, and to date this has not been to our disadvantage because the British government, since the time of the Civil War, has found it profitable to be friendly toward the United States.

But we do not know when a change of administration or even cabinets in England might find us facing an unfriendly Britain. We viewed, without undue alarm, a naval alliance between England and Japan, knowing that these governments at the time were friendly toward the United States. But half of the former alliance is no longer friendly toward us. The other half might find it profitable to turn—not tomorrow, but say in 1950. Therefore these British possessions constitute a possible threat and ought to be nullified, if we are to begin being supercautious. We believe many Americans would view Dakar with more trembling in the knees if the administration hadn't been trying by every other means to get us into the war through all the back doors and side doors in sight.

Fire and the Fifth Column

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has published a series of twelve posters to encourage workers in defense industries to watch out for fifth columnists or saboteurs. One of these posters represents a crouching black figure holding a torch, with the heading, "The saboteur's favorite weapon is arson . . . A thin wisp of smoke in the quiet hours . . . a belated alarm, and the damage is done. The saboteur chalks up another victory as important as any won in the front line trenches . . . Be Vigilant . . . Be Alert . . . Be Careful . . . Know your fire prevention appliances. Never forget that America's front line is The Production Line . . . It's Here!"

We all recognize the truth expressed by this poster. We all know that nothing would delight fifth columnists more than fire in our defense industries, wasting man power, wasting time, wasting money and materials. Any fire anywhere serves the fifth columnists' purpose. All incendiary criminals should be considered as members of the enemies' forces.

America has always had incendiary criminals. When the National Board of Fire Underwriters was first founded, in 1866, it organized a Committee on Incendiarism and Arson, the purpose of which was to co-operate with all local authorities in the apprehension and punishment of such criminals. Its first efforts were confined to offering rewards for their capture. However, in 1917, it was decided that more aggressive measures should be taken. The system of offering rewards was discontinued and the work of the Committee was broadened to include a staff of trained men who operate in all parts of the United States. These investigators co-operate closely with state fire marshals, local sheriffs, police officials and district attorneys, in developing evidence of arson. Frequently arson racketeers are brought to justice after having been traced for years across a dozen states.

The spotlight is now turned on incendiarism. It menaces our national safety. Unlimited public support should be given to the National Board and all other groups which are fighting it, and thus safeguarding this nation's security.

The old law of supply and demand probably is what makes talk cheap.

Some men are well-to-do because their friends find them hard to do.

Maybe it would help if dentists sent a little laughing gas with each bill.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, May 27.—A truly sensational move to put fresh new hitting power into the United States army has been worked out by authorities of the war department. A "new weapons division" has been created, under the General Staff and apart from the old ordnance section. In charge has been installed Col. A. D. Bruce, a machine gun man from the old Second Division, regarded by his associates as a fighting officer, alert and imaginative.

The change may have a deceptive sound of hum-drum routine, but it is really a move to give the army something like the fresh punch for modern warfare furnished by Hitler's famous third dimensional combat group. Hitler has a collection of about 30 of the smartest young officers with experience in all three branches of service, who have functioned with a free rein as a sort of super-brain trust for his army, devising the successful new methods and weapons that have characterized his attacks.

The "new weapons division" will do more than devise weapons, and will attempt to keep ahead of German war developments rather than behind them as other armies have been doing.

Only a military man who knows the reluctance of fighting services to drop traditional organization methods will appreciate the full implications of this step, taken nearly ten days ago but not announced.

Resentment against the treasury for proposing its new tax plan is spreading silently through the senate finance as well as the house ways and means committee. The boys say the absent and ill finance chairman, Pat Harrison, had a definite agreement with the treasury that no new tax formulas would be presented. This gentleman's agreement was shared in some degree by House Chairman Doughton and Senator George of Georgia, whose associates now are murmuring that the treasury is no gentleman. Certainly it is true Harrison repeatedly asserted last March that the increases would be restricted to tried and trusted tax formulas, with no innovations.

The irritated ones say they were offered no reason why the treasury changed attitude, but expect the change will be enough to get Harrison out of the hospital before the fight is over.

This inner condition, coupled with the fact that a majority of Democratic congressmen voted against the same treasury scheme last year and do not like it or understand it any better now, forecasts overwhelming defeat of the Sullivan formula. A sharp upward revision of rates in existing law will be substituted.

A top rim group in OPM, displeased at the way things are going, has been trying to push up William L. Batt, production adviser, as liaison officer, with the White House or presidential defense adviser. Batt has enthusiasm and patriotic courage which they believe could contribute some added fire to the effort. No one there now wants Knudsen to go, but all see his effort has been restricted by lack of legal authority (as for instance to direct army and navy procurement).

Japanese bombing in China is spreading just as much death and almost as much damage as nazi attacks on London, although you hear little about it. Chinese casualties are large because of congested living districts, but property damage is less because the Japanese do not have the most efficient bombs, airmen or dive bombers.

The Burma road is being bombed repeatedly but has never been closed for more than a day or two, usually only a few hours. When bridges are knocked out the Chinese use ferries until the structures are rebuilt.

Sizzling revelation of what is going on in the dark Japanese mind is presented by American newsman James R. Young's account of his Tokyo experiences in his new book, "Behind the Rising Sun." The manner in which the small military clique dominates Japanese diplomacy and publicity as a hand in the glove for the nazis—sometimes an unwilling hand, often grotesque, rarely straightforward—is therein made understandable to Americans for just about the first time.

Young offers little hope for a change until the Japanese people throw off this yoke which they daily feel but cannot see.

Well Known Peoria Man Held on Murder Charge

Peoria, Ill., May 28.—(AP)—A 41-year-old automobile salesman was held in the Peoria county jail without bond on a murder charge today after State's Attorney Lester F. Carson said he admitted shooting a farmer with whom he had been at odds two years.

DR. EARL S. RUDISILL

On Wednesday evening at 7:30, June 4th, a meeting of church and Sunday school workers will gather at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The occasion for the meeting is the presence of Dr. Earl S. Rudisill, Dr. Rudisill comes from the headquarters of the Philadelphia office and is the associate secretary of the Church School Board. He will especially confer in the matter of adult work, education for family life and church-home relations. From the program which he has submitted it would appear that the whole adult department of the school should attend, including the intermediate and senior groups. It would include all the teachers and officers of the whole school. The meeting is to be as informal as it can be made so as to allow for discussion and questions.

Out of his rich experience, his brilliant mind, his devout life, Dr. Rudisill will give us wise counsel and encouragement. He has been pastor, beginning his work at St. Stephen's Lutheran church in Chicago, 1915. He was president of Thiel College from 1934 to 1940.

Dr. Rudisill has traveled extensively in America and in Europe. He is the author of a number of books, among which is the popular volume, "The Intimate Problems of Youth." He comes not as an expert but as a humble helper in showing us how to lead men and women to know God better. The conference or meeting, includes a number of near-by churches and schools: Oregon, Nachusa and Princeton.

While the conference will have a Lutheran approach in the work of the church school, nevertheless the problems and their solution are common to all churches so there is no hesitancy in inviting the pastors and the school workers of our local city churches. Wednesday, June 4th, 7:30 p. m.

Attorney General of Illinois Renews His Drive Against Bookies

Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—Attorney General George F. Barrett announced today a state-wide investigation to determine whether any handbook operators were violating an injunction ordering them to close their establishments.

"My men will not start backtracking to determine whether any of the bookmakers already served have reopened 'sneak' places in new locations," Barrett said.

His investigators, the attorney general said, have closed more than 1,000 handbooks in Cook county and more than 420 downstate.

"Any bookie who has been served with a summons and then opens a new book anywhere in the state is automatically subject to a contempt of court charge," Barrett said. "It is within the power of the court to impose heavy fines and jail sentences upon all those who violate the closing orders."

The injunction was obtained in January in the St. Clair county Circuit court.

By clock time, the earth completes a turn on its axis in four minutes less than a day.

Legionnaire and member of a well-known Peoria county family. The shooting of Martin Sica, a farmer, occurred yesterday in a Glasford grocery.

Carson said Fahnestock told him the enmity between Sica and the salesman began two years ago when Sica returned an automobile he had purchased and took back his old car.

An inquest was fixed for tomorrow.

Dr. Lud argues, even threatens to expel the entire group, but Jenks counters that threat and Lud knows he has lost. Paula and Tony hurry on to warn the League members. Tony asks Paula to forget that she hates him, for this one night.

KILO CHALLENGED

CHAPTER XIV

TONY had carried Paula across the rough field. When they reached the barn he was breathing fast but easily. Through the door they could hear Kilo Sherwood's voice: ". . . and so this is our farewell meeting. . ."

Tony wasted no time in knocking. He gave the door a kick that burst it open. After an instant of shocked silence, the entire League membership was on its feet.

Kilo recovered first, her green eyes flaming. "What is this? Another Greek-letter invasion?"

Tony said easily, "We're here as friends, Kilo. You've got to get out of this barn fast."

Kilo laughed. "What's wrong, Mr. Beale? Is it going to catch fire?"

"Worse than that," Tony snapped. "About 50 fraternity fellows are on their way here."

Dixon Man Enters Ninety-Second Year of Life Today

GEORGE WASHINGTON BUCKALOO

Mr. Buckaloo, who resides at 615 North Hennepin avenue, quietly celebrated his 92nd birthday anniversary today. A niece, Mrs. Edward Bollman of Nelson township, was an afternoon visitor, and two other nieces, the Misses Grace and Elizabeth Buckaloo, reside with the family.

The aged man, namesake of this country's first president, was born May 28, 1849, in the "Bend," as the wooded section at the curve of the Rock river near Grand Detour is familiarly known. His parents, Joseph and Eliza (Hornor) Buckaloo, and their eldest son and daughter came to Lee county from Pennsylvania in 1839, the year the county was founded.

The Buckaloo's home in Pennsylvania was east of the Alleghenies. They made the ascent of the mountain in a hoist attached to a huge engine at the summit, and were lowered down the other side by means of a similar carrier. They then proceeded by train to Pittsburgh, traveled by boat down the Ohio and up the Mississippi to Savanna, from where they headed for Dixon to establish a new home in the Bend.

The Dixon man is the last remaining member of a family of six brothers and sisters. He missed seeing service in the Civil war, as he was too young to enlist. An older brother, Alfred, had a part in the conflict between states, and became a second lieutenant before receiving an honorable discharge for an illness from which he never recovered.

His brother was one of 2,700 Union soldiers who camped near the present location of the shoe factory. With the coming of cold weather, the soldiers moved to winter quarters in Grand Detour in the structure which had housed the Grand Detour plow factory.

Mr. Buckaloo recalls vividly Dixon's worst tragedy—the falling of the Galena avenue bridge. He was at his residence at the corner of Hennepin and Fifth street at the time, and remembers having hurried across the railroad bridge to the scene of the disaster.

His family, he says, have read the Dixon Evening Telegraph since the early '60's. Reading was a favorite hobby of his until about 11 years ago, when failing eyesight began troubling him.

Wm. R. Johnson Appeals Conviction to Federal Appeals Court Today

Chicago, May 28—(AP)—William R. Johnson's plea that he be spared five years' imprisonment as an evader of $1,800,000 in Federal income taxes was in the hands of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today.

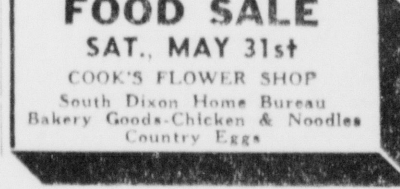

The court took the matter under advisement yesterday after hearing arguments in behalf of Johnson and five co-defendants who were accused of aiding in the evasion.

The six men were convicted in Federal court last fall. Johnson was fined $10,000 in addition to the prison sentence.

Floyd R. Thompson, Johnson's counsel, told the court yesterday that his client was the "only professional gambler in the country who always paid his taxes".

Appealing with Johnson were Jack Sommers, William P. Kelly, and John M. Elanacan, each four years and $8,000 fine; James A. Hartman, three years, $6,000, and Stuart S. Brown, two years and $4,000.

Harder Life Sure Head of Bankers Association Says

Chicago, May 28—(AP)—P. D. Houston, president of the Illinois Bankers Association, believes that the American people, facing a "rapidly developing war economy", must make their choice between guns and luxury.

The Nashville, Tenn. man told the convention of the Illinois Bankers Association yesterday that "business as usual is impossible x x x Life will be harder and we may as well realize it."

The Association, which will close its 50th annual meeting today, heard a report from President Charles R. Reardon of Joliet urging that town guard organizations be revived against the possibility of widespread bank hold-ups.

Acknowledging that Illinois had no successful bank robberies in 1940 and only 13 in the last five years, Reardon stated, however, that increased movement of cash might touch off a series of holdups.

The Joliet man was expected to be succeeded in the association presidency today by Earl C. Adams, president of the Jersey State Bank, Jerseyville.

Kate Condon, One Time Star of Opera, Dies

Chicago, May 28—(AP)—Miss Kate Condon, who gained attention in pre-World War days as a contralto in light and grand opera, died last night after a long illness.

She was included among the first 40 American singers who offered their services for the entertainment of soldiers in France during the World war.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

New High School Courses

Changes in next year's school curriculum were announced by Mr. Hills, high school principal, in an assembly recently.

A one-credit course in general music will be given if enough interest is shown to warrant a class.

The business courses will be spread over a longer period of time to accommodate the students who want to prepare themselves for office work.

Business training will be dropped because of over-lapping of subject matter in this course and in math and bookkeeping. Instead, sophomores will be allowed to take first year typing.

Bookkeeping will be offered to juniors and seniors next year, but after this it will be a regular junior subject.

A two-credit course in office practice will be given to replace Shorthand II and Typing II. This new course will combine second year shorthand and typing and secretarial training and will be open to those seniors only who have done satisfactory work in beginning shorthand and typing.

A course in advanced mechanical drawing will be given provided there are enough juniors who want that work.

A course in journalism, open to anyone who wants to try his hand at writing for print, will be offered. Besides putting out the school paper, students will study the fundamentals of journalism. The course will give either a half or a full credit.

Text to Berlin, Tokyo

Even before the president faced the cluster of microphones in the East Room at the White House, the complete text of his address was already being sent to Berlin and to Tokyo by axis powers newsmen.

Foreign reaction was slow, particularly from official quarters. Sleepless British people followed the broadcast with close attention, however, and the typical man-in-the-street comment was: "He's with us all the way. . . . It means we're going to lick Hitler even sooner than we expected." The British radio interpreted the proclamation of unlimited emergency as "proof that the president is very much alive to the present military position."

Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada saw "a clear declaration by the President that the United States has not only decided to reassert but is determined to maintain the freedom of the seas. . . . Germany will have to draw her own conclusions as to what may be involved by any attempt by force to frustrate delivery from America of munitions and food to Britain."

Opinion Divided

In Washington congressional opinion divided into two main schools. Supporters of the administration's foreign policy applauded the speech as "superb. . . . excellent. . . . courageous. . . . a ringing call."

Opposition legislators called it a "speech to promote war hysteria. . . . A typical Rooseveltian speech that took 15 minutes to say nothing that we already did not know. . . . disturbing. . . . An executive declaration of a war policy."

Senator Nye (R-ND), for example, remarked: "The Roosevelt war progresses. What does an unlimited emergency mean? Although he says the only thing we need to fear is fear itself, he proceeds to put fear in the American breast in abundance."

On the other hand, Senator Green (D-RI) of the foreign relations committee said "I think the president was called on to assert leadership and he has asserted it. I think the country as a whole will follow it and congress will follow the lead of the people." He accordingly suggested immediate repeal of the neutrality act to "maintain American rights on the seas."

Extraordinary Powers

The president's proclamation of an unlimited emergency, it was generally conceded, clothed him with extraordinary powers that may be exercised as events warrant. By issuing additional proclamations, it was pointed out, he can close or commandeer radio stations, take over power houses needed for munitions production, demand preference for troops and war materials on all transportation systems, or suspend trading on securities exchanges—to name only a few possible uses of power.

Legal circles, however, believed that the president already had authority to do these things under the previous "limited" emergency. They were inclined to regard the "unlimited emergency" proclamation primarily as an instrument to hammer home the full gravity of the country's present position.

Roosevelt delivered his address before a distinguished gathering of the diplomatic representatives of all the American nations. Their chairs were arranged in a fan-like semi-circle before the desk at which he sat. Behind him were the massed flags of the 21 American republics.

Sees Hemisphere Threatened

Throughout the address, Roosevelt reiterated his conviction that hemisphere security was in jeopardy because of the Nazi plans for world domination.

"Adolf Hitler," he said at the very outset, "never considered the domination of Europe as an end in itself. European conquest was but a step toward ultimate goals in all the other continents. It is unmistakably apparent to all of us that, unless the advance of Hitlerism is forcibly checked now, the western hemisphere will be within range of the Nazi weapons of destruction."

He offered his audience a blueprint of what he looked for, should Germany triumph abroad.

First would come the familiar assurances from Hitler. There was a sardonic tone in Roosevelt's voice as he recited them: "I am now completely satisfied. This is the last territorial readjustment I will seek. All we want is peace, friendship, and profitable trade with you in the new world."

Should these assurances be accepted, he continued, the "dictatorships would be forcing the enslaved peoples of their old world conquests x x x to build a naval and air force intended to gain and hold and be master of the Atlantic and Pacific as well."

Next: "They would fasten an economic stranglehold upon our several nations. Quislings would be found to subvert the governments of our republics; and the Nazis would back their fifth columns with invasion if necessary."

"Already In Nazi Book"

"I am not speculating about all this," the president asserted. "I merely repeat what is already in the Nazi book of world conquest.

They plan to treat the Latin American nations as they are now treating the Balkans. They plan to strangle the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada."

Roosevelt noted that the Germans were in a position now to occupy Spain, Portugal, Dakar, "and the island outposts of the new world—the Azores and Cape Verde islands."

"The war is approaching the brink of the western hemisphere itself. It is coming very close to home."

Roosevelt gave quiet emphasis to his next sentence:

"Control or occupation by Nazi forces of any of the islands of the Atlantic would jeopardize the immediate safety of portions of North and South America, and of the island possessions of the United States, and therefore of the ultimate safety of the continental United States itself."

Reasserts Doctrine

It was not until the end of his speech that the president with measured gravity announced: "We reassert the ancient American doctrine of freedom of the seas."

Before he came to the peroration, however, he dwelt on the history of that doctrine in preserving hemisphere security and asserted that the "supreme purpose" of the axis today was to obtain control of the seas, thus winning "the power to dictate to the Americas."

"If the axis powers fail to gain control of the seas, they are certainly defeated. Their dreams of world domination will then go by the board; and the criminal leaders who started this war will suffer inevitable disaster."

The president formulated the national policy of the United States today in these words:

"First, we shall actively resist wherever necessary and with all our resources, every attempt by Hitler to extend his Nazi domination to the western hemisphere, or to threaten it."

"We shall actively resist his every attempt to gain control of the seas. We insist upon the vital importance of keeping Hitlerism away from any point in the world which could be used and would be used as a base of attack against the Americas."

"Second, from the point of view of strict naval and military necessity, we shall give every possible assistance to Britain and all who, with Britain, are resisting Hitlerism or its equivalent with force of arms."

Patrols Helping

"Our patrols are helping now to insure delivery of the needed supplies to Britain. All additional measures necessary to deliver the goods will be taken. Any and all further methods or combination of methods, which can or should be utilized, are being devised by our military and naval technicians, who, with me, will work out and put into effect such new and additional safeguards as may be needed."

"I say the delivery of needed supplies to Britain is imperative. I say this can be done; it must be done; it will be done."

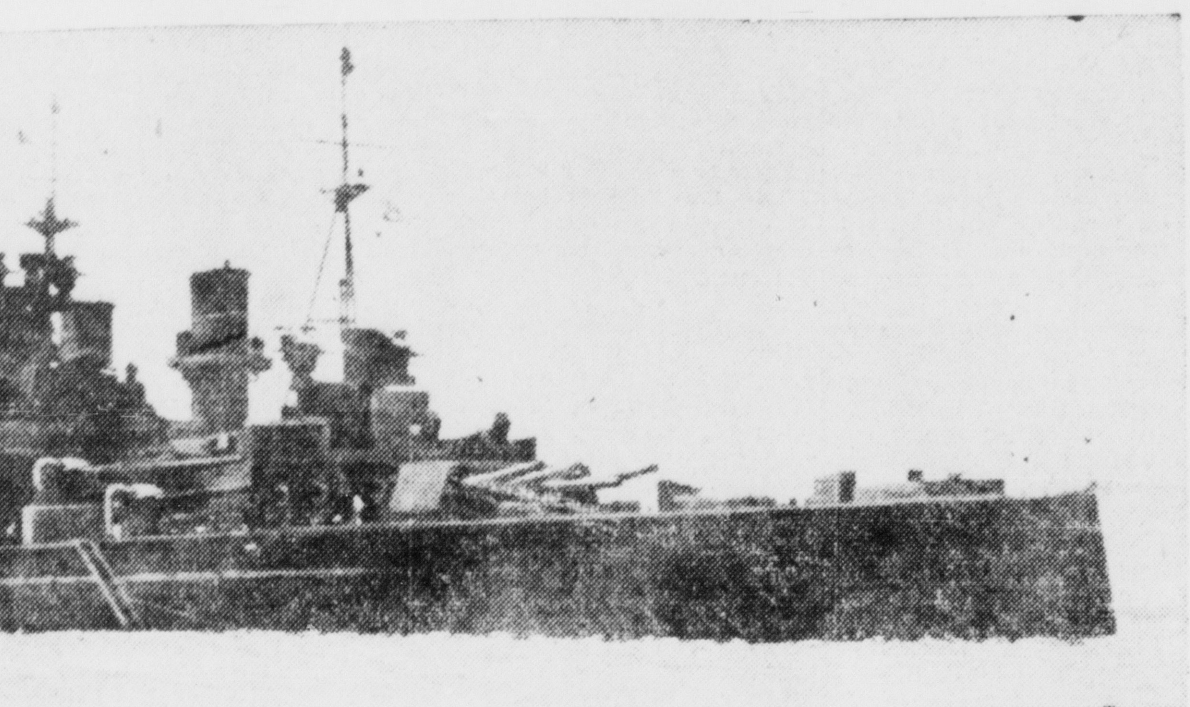

This was looked on as Roosevelt's reply to Germany's Grand Admiral Raeder who a few days ago called American patrols "aggressive" and said Nazi sea captains would be justified in using force to curb their "hostile action." Raeder also warned against convoys as an "open war act" to which German ships would reply, if necessary.

The president used the word "convoys" only once, and then to describe the type of naval protection employed in the World War. In the present conflict, he said, the protection problem was different and greater because of improved submarines, greater use of surface raiders, long range bombers and the destruction of shipping in ports accessible to air attack.

Blast Lands Four in Oregon Courts

Three Youths, Tavern Operator, Arraigned There Yesterday

Three Brookville youths and a Brookville tavern operator paid fines in Ogle county courts in Oregon Tuesday afternoon as the result of the explosion of a dynamite bomb in Brookville recently.

Doris Frank, sister of Gordon Frank, one of the youths, said in a complaint that the trio set off the bomb May 17 and that they had been drinking prior to the incident.

LeRoy Veitmeyer, 38, the tavern owner, was fined $300 and costs by Ogle County Judge Philip H. Nye on a charge of selling liquor to Orville Bowers, 20, Gordon Frank, 19, and Anita Doyle, 17.

Placed Under Peace Bonds

Bowers, Frank and Russell Smith, 21, were fined $10 and costs each by Justice of the Peace Chester A. Landers of Oregon after their arrest on charges of disturbing the peace, and were placed under $500 peace bonds for a year.

According to the youths' testimony they found a stick of dynamite at an oil station May 17, made a bomb out of it and set it off in the driveway at the home of Charles Bechtel in Brookville. The bomb shook the neighborhood but caused no damage. The dynamite belonging to an employee of the oil station, who had been using it to blast rocks in a quarry. The youths admitted they had been drinking prior to the explosion, authorities said.

Tells of Visit to Tavern

Doris Frank testified she was in Veitmeyer's tavern the same evening and saw her brother, Bowers and the Doyle girl being served liquor.

Sheriff James White and Deputy Sheriff William Hungerford of Ogle county arrested the three youths and Veitmeyer.

Rockford Society

Cables Hitler to Keep His Pledges

Rockford, Ill., May 28—(AP)—The Rockford chapter of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies urged today that peace-loving people cable Adolf Hitler to stop the war, instead of wiring President Roosevelt to keep peace.

The chapter cabled Hitler whom they addressed as "Warmonger No. 1, Berlin", last night after hearing the president's address and telegraphing him an endorsement of the policy he outlined. The message to Hitler demanded:

"You abide by your pledged word and stop bombing defenseless women and children and open towns and cities; return all territory you have seized unlawfully and which you pledged in 1939 you had no designs upon; keep your pledged word to the German people. 'There will be no war'."

Dr. Dorion Cairns, Rockford College professor and chapter chairman, said he hoped the message would start "a national movement of all true peace-loving people". The committee declared that messages for peace sent the president were "misdirected since our president has continually striven for peace."

If the war were stopped at its source, the resolution said, "it will be unnecessary for our president to take additional offensive steps which may lead us into war."

Reciprocity Between

Illinois, Wisconsin Terminates on Monday

Springfield, Ill., May 28—(AP)—A reciprocity agreement between Illinois and Wisconsin on the licensing of truckers will terminate June 1. Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced today.

After that date, Hughes' office said, truckers licensed in one state but doing business in the other must have motor vehicle licenses of both states. The reciprocity agreement made the license of either state sufficient in the other. The agreement applied to commercial vehicles only.

Hughes said termination of the agreement was made necessary by failure of the Wisconsin legislature to enact legislation which would have allowed the agreement to continue in effect.

Ending of the agreement, Hughes' office said, will affect many small truck and dairy farmers who truck their products across state lines to markets.

HOSTAK TRIES TONIGHT TO PROVE THEY DO COME BACK IN BATTLE WITH TONY ZALE

By TOM SILER

Chicago, May 28 — (AP) — Al Hostak, the Seattle battler with the glass hands, will try tonight to disprove again the old saying that "they never come back."

He will meet Tony Zale, Gary, Ind., fighter recognized as the middleweight champion by the National Boxing association, in a 15-round bout in Chicago stadium. Hostak one of the hardest punchers in the business, has been plagued by "hand trouble" ever since he reached the top.

Three years ago Hostak proved champions sometimes do come back. He lost the title in 1938 to Solly Krieger of Brooklyn when he broke both hands. Later he regained the crown only to lose it to Zale.

The Gary boy won a decision over Hostak here 16 months ago. Hostak again breaking a hand. Then last July in Seattle Zale dethroned Hostak by a knockout in the 13th round.

The largest crowd to see a Chicago professional card in three years and the largest indoor throng in a decade is expected at the battle. The advance sale indicates close to 20,000 customers will contribute to a gross gate of upwards of $50,000.

Running the title go a respectable 10-rounder involving the wicked punching Booker Beckwith, Gary negro heavyweight, and the same Krieger who once ruled the middleweights.

THIS IS LAST DAY TO GET IN HOLIDAY RACE

Indianapolis, May 28 — (AP) — This was the last day to get into the starting lineup of 33 cars for the 29th annual 500-mile automobile race Friday and two places remained open.

Among six speedsters believed ready for the final qualifying trials (1 to 5 p. m. CST) were Rene LeBeque and Jean Trevoux of France and Shorty Cantlon of Indianapolis. To qualify a car must run 10 miles at 115 miles an hour or faster; the 33 fastest qualifiers will start the race.

Ted Horn, Paterson, N. J., qualified yesterday at 124.297 miles an hour. Ira Hall, Terre Haute, Ind., 50, and the oldest driver on the track, narrowly escaped death in two spins on the southeast turn in trial runs.

Mauri Rose, Indianapolis, was favored to win the race in a secret ballot last night at the annual meeting of the 100-mile-an-hour club, for those who have driven the full 500 miles here at the century mark or better. Sixteen of the 27 living members, only a dozen of whom will compete Friday, were present.

The seniors of Walnut Community high school presented their class night exercises on Monday evening in the high school auditorium which was filled to capacity. The stage was set for a broadcasting scene with Don Smith as master of ceremonies and announcer. The program opened with a set of commercial announcements concerning the faculty and the welcome by the salutatorian, Verden Broers. The class history was read by Prof. Herriot, impersonated by Bob Ross. After the weather forecast came a vocal solo, "Will You Remember, Sweetheart?" by Clara Forney. The presentation of the golden key was made by the senior president, Pearl Johnson, and the acceptance in behalf of the juniors by their president, Marjorie Johnson.

Next each senior was presented by Anita Atherton, who gave a resume of the majors, minors and school activities of each senior. The class poem, an original one, was given by June Vick, depicting the characteristics of each senior. The class will, given by Lois Mae Larkin, was announced as the "court of missing heirs," in which the usual humorous bequests were made to the under classmen and the faculty. Two vocal solos, "De-lor-es," and "I'll See You Again," were sung by Caryl Schrader and this was followed by two interviews with home economics delegates, Berniel Kuepker who gave a recipe for "Goody, goody biscuits," and Shirley Yonk who gave a recipe for the making of a good senior.

News flashes given from all over the world, gave a glimpse into the future to see what would become of the 26 seniors, and this was presented by the radio commentator, Dottie Robinson, who was Mildred Malmberg. The finale was given by June Vick, which brought a most amusing radio hour to an end.
Mrs. Bert Wallis was hostess to her card club, the Jolly Six, at pinocle on Monday afternoon, with the high score prize going to Mrs. A. M. Walrath. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Sidney Fordham will be hostess to the club on June 9.

Total benefit payments to life insurance policy-holders and their beneficiaries for the first quarter of 1941 amounted to more than $7,329,000 daily.
Larger cities of the U. S. spent about 35 cents less per capita on the health of their citizens than they did in 1929 when the average was $1.19 per person.
